Menon, Ike Meet Tuesday Seeks Ways To Ease Tension With China

By SPENCER DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Krishna Menon, India's roving diplomat, held a series of talks with President Eisenhower and high officials Tuesday on easing tensions with Communist China.

After seeing Secretary of State Dulles and Vice President Nixon in addition to his White House call, the bushy-haired Indian trouble shooter said he had found "nothing to discourage me in my mission."

He told newsmen he was leaving for New York Tuesday night but would come back to Washington this week to see Sen. Walter George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Menon said he had discussed the prisoner of war issue in a "friendly talk" with Nixon. Menon has indicated that some conciliatory gesture on the part of the United States might speed the release of 11 U. S. airmen imprisoned in Communist China.

He told newsmen the talk with Dulles dealt with the "situation in the area of Formosa with respect to the difficulties which now exist between the United States and China."

Menon presumably gave Eisenhower an idea of what conciliatory gesture toward Red China he has in mind, but no announcement was made concerning it.

While House Press Secretary James Hagerly said Menon would see the President or secretary of state again before leaving the country early next month.

Smiling and affable, the wavy-haired Indian turned aside all questions on the substance of his 45-minute talk with the President. Dulles and Indian Ambassador G. L. Mehta also sat in on the meeting. But apart from the conference, he repeated his earlier view that the release of four U. S. fliers by Communist China had "opened the door" for the possible freeing of 11 other airmen imprisoned by Peiping.

Menon indicated strongly before his White House call that both the United States and Communist China can each make "some contribution" toward relaxing tensions.

"You are concerned about your nationals there," he told reporters upon his arrival at National Airport, "and they are concerned about their nationals here."

"I'm sure the United States will do what is right and proper," he added.

Menon, who conferred with Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai in Peiping for 10 days last month, thus raised the question of Chinese students in this country.

The State Department already has issued visas to about 70 students educated here who have expressed the desire to go home. But several hundred others have refused to return, and U. S. officials are unwilling to make any move toward pressuring them to leave this country.

Votes More Millions To Build Air Force

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spurred by reports of Soviet aviation advances, the Senate Appropriations Committee Tuesday voted to spend additional millions to assure America its Air Force is "the most powerful in the world."

Adding more than 700 million dollars to the House-approved Air Force budget, the Democratic controlled committee went on to approve a total of nearly 32 billions in new funds for the entire Defense Department.

Republicans and Democrats on the committee joined to add the Air Force money to the bill. Sen. Stennis (D-Miss.), a committee member, said there were no votes against it.

While hiking the air appropriation, the committee turned back moves to block manpower reductions which the Eisenhower administration has ordered for the Army and Marine Corps.

The boost in Air Force money reflected complaints from some Democrats that the administration has not been telling all it knows of a possible increase in Russian air power in relation to this country's air strength.

President Eisenhower and civilian chiefs in the Pentagon have declared the United States maintains supremacy, although the official view appears to acknowledge that the Soviet air threat is mounting.

Controversy followed Air Force release last month of an account of new and powerful aircraft exhibited over Moscow on May Day. Secretary of Air Talbott later requested extra funds to speed up production of heavy B52 jet bombers, capable of delivering A-bombs anywhere in the world. Sen. Chavez (D-NM), who headed an appropriations subcommittee that screened the defense spending bill, said the full committee voted down 14-6 an effort to furnish the Army another quarter-billion dollars. This would have prevented a cutback from 1,114,000 men to 1,027,000 by mid-1956.

He said the vote was 13-7 against putting up 40 millions to halt a Marine Corps reduction to 193,000 by the same date. Marine strength was 205,000 earlier this year.

The manpower cutbacks were ordered by Secretary of Defense Wilson and approved by President Eisenhower as part of what they termed a policy of establishing a highly trained, mobile defense force equipped with the most potent weapons possible.

Seek Drug Distribution Plan In Stormy Session

By WILMOT HERCHER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hill (D-Ala.) demanded a government statement Tuesday on the safety of the Salk polio vaccine and was told "it is a potent material as safe as we know how to make it."

He asked his question at a stormy session of the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee, which he heads. Republicans accused Democrats of trying to make political capital by criticizing the Eisenhower administration's handling of the vaccination program.

Republican members of the committee objected that Hill was going beyond the agreed purpose of the meeting, which was to consider two rival proposals to furnish free vaccine to children.

Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele, chief of the U. S. Public Health Service, eventually provided the replies.

He told the committee it is erroneously assumed the vaccine is 100 per cent safe, but that under recently revised manufacturing and testing standards "it is a potent material as safe as we know how to make it." By potent, Scheele meant effective in preventing infantile paralysis.

the Public Health Service viewpoint to achieve mass immunization even though there are things we still don't have the answers to."

Secretary of Welfare Hobby came to the meeting to oppose Hill's plan to have the federal government furnish vaccine free to all children up to the age of 19.

She said it might lead to "socialized medicine by the back door."

Mrs. Hobby proposed instead that Congress appropriate 35 million dollars to make the vaccine available to all needy children. She estimated Hill's plan would cost 135 million.

The immunization campaign was interrupted last month when an increasing number of children (the latest count is 146) came down with polio after receiving their shots. It has now been resumed on a reduced scale under the revised standards. More than six million children have been inoculated.

Today's Sham Atomic Attack Huge Test For Civil Defense

Ike, Key Men To Evacuate Washington

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Major American cities face a massive, sham attack by "nuclear explosives" Wednesday and President Eisenhower will lead 15,000 key people in government in a hurried evacuation to secret hideouts.

In Washington and 55 other American cities, air raid sirens will begin shrieking the start of "Operation Alert 1955" at 12:05 p. m. EDT (10:05 a. m. CST) Wednesday.

Within 3 hours 40 minutes, large areas of the national capital and vital industrial cities in the Northeast, Midwest and Far West supposedly will be flaming, radioactive ruins from attacks by nuclear weapons with the power of 20,000 to a million tons of TNT.

Then, for 26 hours, Civil Defense authorities will take on the problems of casualties, housing, feeding, that can be expected in the first nine days of the real thing. And Eisenhower and other top officials from 31 government agencies will telescope into three days the task of solving all the complex problems likely to come up in the first month of hostilities.

Eisenhower will jump into a car and rush out of Washington as soon as the sirens start blaring.

State CD To Have Bigger Problems In Today's Alert

CHICAGO (AP)—Illinois' local civil defense organizations were told Tuesday they will have new and bigger problems to cope with during Wednesday's nationwide "Operation Alert."

Gen. Robert M. Woodward, Illinois director of Civil Defense urged citizens to demand improvement if they find their local organizations lacking during the emergency.

For the first time, he said, the counties of Cook, Will, Kane, McHenry and DuPage will be asked to work with and support the Chicago organization during the emergency. Similarly, the counties surrounding St. Louis will work with that city's organization.

During the test, hydrogen ground bursts will be assumed, he said, creating much more simulated damage and confusion than the A-bomb.

Radioactive fallout will be assumed, as will the theoretical evacuation of approximately 1,700,000 persons from both cities.

The H-bombs presumably will be dropped on St. Louis and Chicago during the emergency proclaimed by the President.

PERON, GOV'T MAY BE AUTOMATICALLY EXCOMMUNICATED

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Argentine President Juan D. Peron and members of his government may have incurred automatic excommunication of the Roman Catholic Church for ordering dismissal of two Buenos Aires bishops, Vatican sources said Tuesday.

These sources said the news of the Argentine government action seemed "much confused," and would have to be clarified before it could be accurately evaluated.

Secretary of Defense Wilson will get out by helicopter. Congress and the judiciary won't participate in this most ambitious and realistic test so far of how well Civil Defense and the federal government could operate in the event of atomic attack.

The President, cabinet members, military chiefs and the nucleus of essential people from the 31 federal agencies will hole up in relocation sites from 30 to 300 miles from Washington. As in wartime, these sites will not be identified because some are for actual use in an emergency. At one spot, 600 people will live in tents.

In cities other than Washington,

Operation Alert will follow varying patterns.

Three Alaskan communities will be "struck" by guided missiles from Soviet bases. Submarines will launch atomic "attacks" on Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Panama Canal Zone.

In continental United States, 50 of the 92 critical target cities will be "bombed." Forty-three of them know about it already. The other seven, all hydrogen bomb "targets" won't know until the sirens start screaming. Milwaukee, which once planned an extensive test, now plans only a routine air raid drill with a few civil defense officials evacuated.

Argentine Government Orders Two Bishops Discharged, Quizzed

By FRED L. STROZIER

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — President Juan D. Peron's government Tuesday ordered two Roman Catholic bishops discharged from their posts, and called them in for questioning before a federal judge investigating recent disorders.

A decree from Peron and his Cabinet accused the bishops of promoting the disorders involving supporters of the church and supporters of Peron.

A few hours later the bishops, accompanied by two other clergymen, were called to federal police headquarters to face the judge. There was no sign that the prelates were under arrest.

Tuesday's decree from President Peron and his Cabinet ended the bishop's authority under the government, which recognizes Catholicism as the state religion.

However, a high church source said Santiago Luis Cardinal Copello might continue them in their present positions although separated from official government titles.

The decree named the Rt. Rev. Manuel Tato, provisor vicar general, auxiliary bishop for Buenos Aires and canon of the Buenos Aires episcopate, and the Rt. Rev. Ramon Pablo Novoa, canon deacon.

The decree cited an old Spanish law, dating back to Argentine colonial times, as authorizing the government to discharge church authorities held to have violated their duties in some way. Argentina, like Spain, participates in the selection of Catholic bishops.

Under a long-standing agreement, the Argentine Senate selects three nominees for vacancies in bishops' positions. The president sends one of these names to the Vatican, which reserves the right of actual appointment.

The Peron government is trying to end Catholicism's status as state religion.

Both Msgr. Tato and Msgr. Novoa were charged with investigating Catholic observances May 6 and June 11 that the government had banned. These observances ended in street fights between Catholics and federal police and in counter-demonstrations by supporters of Peron in the 7-month-old state-church dispute.

Bishop Tato, 48, a native of Buenos Aires, has been in effect acting head of the Catholic Church in this country recently because of Cardinal Copello's illness.

The two bishops' government-paid salaries stop immediately. Msgr. Tato received $140 from the government monthly for work in his three church posts.

The government has withheld for the last two months the salaries previously paid to Argentina's two cardinals, various bishops, and sons will be second largest.

Pledges Germany Won't Be Neutral

Supports Passage Of State Senate's Sales Tax Measure

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The Illinois House Municipalities Committee Tuesday voted 22 to 9 to recommend passage of a Senate bill permitting cities to levy a half-cent sales tax without referendum.

Rep. Albert Hachmeister (R-Chicago) unsuccessfully tried to tack on a referendum requirement and a two-year limit on the proposal. He mustered only one vote besides his own.

Gov. Stratton and Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago have advocated the tax as part of their legislative program for aiding cities. Mayor Nelson Howarth of Springfield was one of six witnesses testifying against the bill. He said its effect would be to "break up cities."

Howarth contended that shoppers and merchants would tend toward shopping areas outside the cities. He recommended a pending house bill providing for a one-cent boost in the state sales tax, with part of the proceeds going to cities.

Motorcycle Cop Slays Holdup Man In Manhattan Duel

NEW YORK (AP)—A trigger-happy holdup man was shot and killed by a motorcycle policeman Tuesday in a downtown Manhattan gun duel.

Three other persons suffered serious bullet wounds.

The gunman, fleeing with a $4,000 payroll, paused long enough to shoot down two men who dared give chase—one of them unarmed and the other carrying only a screwdriver.

A woman who had run into a diner for refuge was struck in the neck by a stray bullet.

Police identified the gunman from fingerprints as John J. Antonelli, 26, formerly of New Rochelle, N. Y.

At the sound of the shots and commotion, Patrolman Aurelio De Filippi, 39, hopped from his motorcycle and gave chase on foot.

The gunman dodged among parked automobiles, then made a stand behind a parked station wagon.

De Filippi took cover behind a truck.

He said he shouted, in English and Italian: "Throw your gun down and raise your hands"—but that his order was ignored. Then the patrolman "charged," he said, directly at Antonelli, emptying all six shots from his revolver.

Antonelli was found dead with a bullet through his head. Five shots had been discharged from a gun in his hand. The payroll lay beside him.

Police said Antonelli trailed Deana Panzer, 19, from a bank to the lobby of the building on Broadway. At gunpoint, he wrested the $4,000 from her.

Chancellor Meets Ike, Promises Nation Will Battle Red Expansion

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP) — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer pledged Tuesday night that his country "will honor her obligations" to free nations, rejecting any Soviet bid to turn a united Germany into a cold war neutral.

"In my opinion, the neutrality or neutralization of Germany," he said, "would in a relatively short time permit Soviet Russia to extend her power over all of Western Europe."

Adenauer expressed these views at a big reception given in his honor by the combined corps of press, radio and television correspondents and news photographers.

Earlier, Adenauer ended conferences with President Eisenhower at the White House with a joint declaration that expressed their "combined opinion" that a neutrality role would never solve Germany's unity problems.

Adenauer, in a brief talk at the reception, in effect took issue with those who maintain that developments in the Far East are more important at present to the future of the free world. He termed this a "somewhat artificial distinction."

"In my opinion," he said, "it is important to recognize the fact that in the Atlantic and in the Pacific the adversary is the same. If we pacify this opponent in Europe and thus relieve him of certain burdens we will give him the opportunity to employ his resources in the Pacific."

Minding no words, despite the nearness of negotiations with Russia, Adenauer said the Soviet Union "seeks to undermine us in a way that frankly cannot be imagined."

He said strong Communist parties in France and Italy would seek to take advantage of any plan for a neutral Germany.

Eisenhower and Adenauer, in their joint statement, served blunt notice they will reject any plan for neutralizing Germany which Russia might propose at the Big Four meeting scheduled for July 18 in Geneva.

"The concept of neutrality is in no way applicable to Germany," they declared. "Only in collective security arrangements can Germany assure its independence."

The joint statement gave no clue as to whether the 79-year-old German Chancellor intends to accept Russia's formal invitation to visit Moscow to talk with top Soviet leaders.

The statement said only that this bid figured largely in the discussions.

Got A Hangover? Eat Some Honey!

NEW YORK (AP)—Honey helps overcome hangover and sober up the alcoholic, a medical report said Tuesday.

Honey contains a form of sugar, fructose, which promotes metabolism or burning - up of alcohol in the body.

It has a sobering up and sedative effect, corresponding to the effect of vitamin B6, and the combination of both honey and vitamin has proved helpful in treating alcoholics, Dr. Martha Brunner - Orne writes in the journal of the American Medical Women's Assn.

Solon Asks Study Of 'Baby Bonuses' For U.S. Mothers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore.) Tuesday introduced a resolution to set up a special Senate committee to study Canada's 10-year-old "baby bonus" program to see if a similar plan would be feasible for U. S. youngsters.

All Canadian mothers are eligible for a monthly payment for each child under 16 years of age. Payments range from $5 to $8 a month depending upon the child's age.

Neuberger said the objective of the Canadian program, which now has the endorsement of all political parties, is to make available to children more clothing, wholesome foods and medical care as well as increased educational opportunities.

The senator told a news conference that all forms of social security to date have as their goal freedom from want in old age and now it is time to pay attention to the problems and needs which exist at the other end of life's ladder.

He said he is joined in his proposal for a special Senate study committee of five members by Sens. Douglas (Ill.), Humphrey (Minn.), Kefauver (Tenn.), McNamara (Mich.) and Lehman (N.Y.), all Democrats.

Upholds Dismissal Of Perjury Charge Against Lattimore

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 4-4 division in the U. S. Court of Appeals Tuesday upheld a lower court's dismissal of a two-count perjury indictment returned last October against Owen Lattimore.

Since the government made the appeal, the tie vote had the effect of affirming the action of Dist. Judge Luther W. Youngdahl. He threw out the charges Jan. 18 as "formless and obscure."

Both the Justice Department and the U. S. Atty., Leo A. Rover, declined to comment on the government's next move. Its alternatives appeared to be: (1) ask the Supreme Court to review the case or (2) go ahead and bring Lattimore to trial on five perjury charges remaining outstanding against him from a 1952 indictment.

The 1954 indictment alleged Lattimore, controversial Far Eastern specialist, swore falsely when he told the Senate Internal Security subcommittee he had never been (1) a follower of the Communist line or (2) a promoter of Communist causes.

Expect Independents To Give New Pay Plan

By GLENN ENGLE

DETROIT (AP) — The CIO United Auto Workers Union made it plain Tuesday it expects the industry's so-called "independent" companies to come up with a guaranteed wage plan just as Ford and General Motors did.

Union leaders served demands on American Motors Corp. as formal negotiations covering some 22,000 employees got under way. The company makes Nash and Hudson automobiles and home appliances at eight plants in Michigan, Wisconsin and California.

On economic matters, the demands were the same as those handed Ford and General Motors two months ago—guaranteed wage, pay increases, pension boosts, vacation and holiday improvements and additional health and insurance benefits.

There was little doubt, of course, the union would be happy to settle for the Ford-General Motors "pattern." Settlements reached with those two industry giants within the last nine days guaranteed workers 60 to 65 per cent of take-home pay, including state unemployment compensation, for up to 26 weeks. Compromises were reached on the wage, pension and other matters as well as on the union's original demand for a full guaranteed annual wage.

Edward L. Cushman, American Motors' director of industrial relations, said when informal talks with the union were held two months ago that his company should not be forced to follow a pattern set by the industry's prosperous big three — GM, Ford and Chrysler Corp. He said then that any agreement should be tailored to a smaller company's problems.

BLIGHTED SPAIN

Most of the countries of Western Europe have come back quite remarkably from the low levels they hit after World War II. It is instructive to look at one country—Spain—which was left out of the stream of this development.

Spain, of course, did not fight in World War II. But it fought a bloody, devastating civil war from 1936 to 1939. Theoretically it was a neutral in the great war, but in fact it lent many kinds of help to the Axis powers.

Other Western countries punished Spain for its Axis sympathies by imposing severe economic and political boycott for several years.

Only since the U. S.-Spanish agreement of late 1953 has assistance been poured in—some $500 million in military and economic aid.

Meantime, 15 million of Spain's 28 million people are shamefully ill-housed. Thousands of dwellings destroyed in the civil war never have been replaced. Three-fourths of all dwellings in the country are at least 55 years old. And thousands of Spaniards are living in caves and red mud huts in pitiful array on the outskirts of proud Madrid.

Certainly no advertisement for dictatorship. It looks more like planned poverty than anything else.

PROSPECTS UNLIMITED

The 1955 graduates of America's colleges go forth into a world of bright promise offset by the deep shadow of war's threat.

Never have men and women looked ahead to so much, while knowing that all they might gain could be swept away in the holocaust of total war. The prospect of tomorrow is cast in superlatives.

In the economic sphere, the superlatives spell great opportunity. We live in a nation that is expanding rapidly in numbers, basic wealth and living standards. The outlook for the next generation is that there will be more work than people to do it—despite the population rise.

This does not mean that every field of endeavor will beckon the newcomer invitingly. Some are crowded. The fresh graduate must pick his spot with care. Demand is high for those with engineering and other technical skills, as America veers toward greater and greater dependence on electronically controlled machinery to do its fundamental work.

For the individual with reasonable energy, a bit of imagination, and even a moderate taste for adventure, the age is challenging and exciting. For those who shrink from the bolder, more exacting tests, there is still the promise that the routine toil of tomorrow will have less of drudgery in it.

But the shadow that rims this bright course is a boiling, turbulent thing. All who look upon it realize that through evil calculations, ignorance or accident, men may turn it into a mushroom cloud that could engulf the globe in atomic disaster.

Contemplating this peril, the new graduates have a clear path indicated for them. More than any of their predecessors, they must take part in their country's political life, either actively or through sane, steady appraisal of issues and men.

For in the next few decades it will rest with the men in government in America—and their counterparts in other lands—to avoid the decisions and the blunders that may bring down the darkness.

Every responsible American, whether new to the realm of practical affairs or not, must do his share to see that our men in government understand the gravity of the danger and are equipped to steer us past it—while yet not yielding our freedom or our rich promise of well-being.

Politics today is automatically international. The world has gone by the cigar-chewing ward heeler with eyes narrowly fixed on the next election. We must have men of stature and vision if we are to fulfill our country's great dream in the midst of so large a peril.

To help assure this is the duty of the new graduate, as tomorrow's glowing economic outlook is his opportunity.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Guaranteed wages and unemployment insurance are not the same. They are being pulled closer together by the auto workers' efforts to wring some kind of wage guarantee from the auto industry.

This is the main difference:

1. Unemployment insurance (hereafter called UI) is money which a state gives a worker—for a limited time and in limited amounts—when he loses his regular job.

2. The kind of guaranteed wage now in the news is money given by an employer—for a limited time and in limited amounts—when a worker is laid off.

This is what the CIO United Auto Workers had in mind when it got its first guaranteed wage contracts from Ford and General Motors.

That the guaranteed wage, when added to the UI which a laid-off worker would collect, would give him a figure closer to his regular pay than he would get from the UI alone.

Now it's up to the states to decide whether they'll give UI to a man collecting money from his employer. Some states don't permit that now.

Unemployment Insurance. All states, plus the District of Columbia, Alaska and Hawaii pay UI, collected through a tax of 3 per cent or less on employers' payrolls. Amounts vary from state to state and so does the length of time each state gives these benefits.

The UI payments have been averaging around $25 a week. Some states pay for no more than 16 weeks, some for as many as 26.

Before he can collect UI payments, a worker generally must meet requirements like these: almost all states require him to wait a week, without pay, before he starts collecting; he must be willing to take another job if it's suitable; he may be penalized, or get no money at all, if he's been fired for misconduct.

The Guaranteed Wage. It is of two kinds:

1. For years some companies—like Nunn-Bush, Hormel, Procter and Gamble—have had guaranteed wage plans assuring their employees steady work or income. This is not linked to unemployment insurance.

2. The Ford agreement, first for the auto industry, is tied directly in with UI payments. This is how it works:

A man is laid off for lack of work. He can get up to $25 a week—many will get less—for as much as 26 weeks. How much he gets, up to $25, and how long he gets it depends on how long he worked for Ford and how much he earned weekly.

This company payment, when added to the UI payment he gets from the state, can, but won't necessarily add up to 65 per cent of his base take-home pay. That is, the pay he has left after federal income tax has been deducted from it.

And that guarantee of 65 per cent of take-home pay is only for four weeks. For the next 22 weeks the guarantee is for no more than 60 per cent. So even the combined Ford-UI payment will not give a jobless worker what he had earned regularly.

Severe Case of Sunburn Is Uncomfortable, Dangerous

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

The old saying "the burnt child fears the fire" apparently does not apply to many grownups who get themselves painfully sunburned after year in many parts of the North American continent (apologies to California, Texas and Florida).

The sun is pretty weak during the winter months and the residents of our cities and towns lose most of their tan. But a goodly portion seem to forget their vulnerability to the strong sun of late spring or early summer and spend the first bright Sunday or holiday trying to make up for lost time.

The inevitable result is a few absences from any big office the next day and the appearance of others shining like a beacon light from sunburn. This really does not make much sense. A severe sunburn is not only uncomfortable but can be dangerous.

A SUNBURN is of no earthly benefit to health. When the skin is burned by sun the outer layers are killed and have to be replaced from the layers below. After a severe sunburn the outer layers are shed in sheets and pull off. The dead outer layers do not get any benefit from the sun and actually prevent some of the good which is desired.

The sun's rays are necessary for the growth of plants and help in maintaining the health and well-being of human beings and animals. One of the benefits which the sun can give is to aid the human skin to produce a substance called vitamin D, which is necessary for complete good health and which prevents rickets in children.

A BROWN, TANNED color is the result of the deposit of a pigment or coloring matter in the skin called melanin. This helps to protect the body against getting too much from the sun's rays. When the skin becomes pale it means that there is not much melanin present. Melanin is not deposited in the skin at once on exposure to sun but takes time.

A white skin, therefore, is not so well protected against the sun as it is when good tanning is present. Until the skin is protected in this way it can be burned by the sun in almost exactly the same way that it can be burned by any other hot substance.

People Who are not accustomed to much sunlight and do not show tanning should be careful about the first few exposures. Falling asleep in the sun is particularly risky!

Several ointments or lotions can be placed on the skin and do protect somewhat against rays of the sun and promote tanning rather than burning. A person with a pale skin, however, cannot safely feel that to do this will give absolute protection against burning.

Natural Gas Free-for-All Starts Rambling Again

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The battle to free natural gas field prices from Federal Power Commission regulation has been knocking around Congress for seven years—which should be long enough to settle anything except a dispute with a Russian.

Congressional opinion divides sharply along two lines.

Senators and representatives from states that are the big gas producers favor removal of the present FPC control authority.

In this connection, one of the more amusing chameleons acts in Congress is to watch Democrats from the five southwestern states where 85 per cent of the gas comes from. They suddenly cease to be champions of the pee-pul's rights whenever anything affecting the welfare of oil and gas producers comes up.

On the other side of the fence are congressmen who come from states that are largely consumers of natural gas distributed through the vast network of interstate pipelines. They naturally favor keeping FPC price controls on.

What makes this issue of general interest is that the question ultimately gets down to hitting people where they live. This is in their pocketbooks when they pay their gas bills.

The Natural Gas Act of 1938 gave FPC control over both transportation and sales of natural gas in interstate commerce.

In 1950, after a two-year struggle, Congress passed Sen. Bob Kerr's bill to exempt the production and gathering of natural gas from this regulation. President Truman vetoed it.

Four years later the Supreme Court by 5-to-3 decided that FPC had jurisdiction over the rates of all wholesalers of natural gas. That should have settled the issue. It didn't.

Last February President Eisenhower's Advisory Committee on Energy Supplies and Resources, under Defense Mobilization Director Arthur S. Flemming, filed a new policy report after six months' study. It recommended that interstate transmission of natural gas and its "subsequent" wholesaling for retail distribution should be under FPC regulation.

The word "subsequent" was most important, for it would exempt from price regulation all natural gas sold by producers at the wellhead. This is exactly what the gas producers want.

The new policy statement was taken as an indication that if the Kerr bill of 1950 were passed by the present Congress, President Eisenhower might sign it where Truman had vetoed it.

As if to support this view, the Republican chairman of FPC, Jerome J. Kuykendall, asked Congress to take away his commission's present power to regulate gas prices at wellhead.

So now there are seven bills in the House and six in the Senate to amend the Natural Gas Act. A few would redefine and confirm FPC authority to regulate gas prices. Most would free natural gas production from FPC regulation.

The House Interstate Commerce Committee has completed hearings and is revising a bill introduced by Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.). There are Senate hearings on a bill by J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.).

The lobbies, pressure groups and press agencies built up by both sides in this argument are, of course, tremendous.

Gas producer and pipeline companies are against regulation.

Gas retailers, municipalities and representatives of consumer organizations like the labor unions are for continued FPC regulation.

Mayor Joseph S. Clark, Jr., of Philadelphia and 50 other mayors of major cities with a total population of over 30 million have testified for regulation. Mayor Alex M. Clark of Indianapolis came to Washington to testify as spokesman for a list of 100 mayors who are against FPC regulation.

The real answer depends on the effect on prices.

The lobby for the 8000 independent producers—meaning those having no corporate connections with distributors—argues that continued regulation will discourage exploration and new production. They say this will tend to drive prices higher.

Their more valid argument is that coal mining and crude oil production and distribution are not under price regulation of any kind. So why should gas be controlled in a free economy?

Representatives of the municipalities and consumer groups argue that lifting FPC controls would inevitably be followed by price rises to distributors and consumers.

Leland Olds—former FPC chairman, now a consultant to Public Affairs Institute—and Donald Montgomery of the Auto Workers say these increases might amount to as much as 800 million dollars a year for the 25 million home consumers and two million commercial users.

Every five-cent increase per thousand cubic feet at the wellhead would cost consumers $1,700,000,000, they say.

Last year field prices averaged 11 cents per thousand cubic feet. Retail prices ranged from 62 cents in the Mountain states to $2.61 in New England.

Boyle's Column

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Mama has sold "that old barn" at last.

"That old barn" is what she calls the big old-fashioned 10-room white house in which she has lived for more than 34 years. During that time mama raised five children, and saw most of them fly away, one by one.

But always they have come back to the old white house. It has remained the family center.

Mama's feud with the house began the day she moved in. She threatened to move right out, and she's been threatening to do so every year since.

"Who wants to rattle around in an old barn like this?" she has said a thousand times. "It's just too much trouble to keep up."

"I'll sell it and move into a one-room apartment with a hotplate—and be perfectly happy."

At other times mama has decided to turn the house into a duplex and rent out the second floor. But she never quite got around to it.

She has never liked the idea of having strangers around since, years back during hard times, she briefly rented two rooms to a couple dad knew. Dad did know some odd people. In this case the husband, a robust fellow in a 10-gallon hat, turned out to be a snake oil salesman, and mama learned to her horror he was keeping jars of embalmed rattlesnakes in his quarters. The couple moved out very soon after that.

In recent years my sister, Dolores, her husband, Don Newton, and their two children have shared the old home with mama. But this spring they bought a newer house out south and asked mama to come with them.

So, after all her long years of quarreling with "that old barn," she had to make up her mind whether to stay on in it, rent it, or dispose of it. Mama decided to make a clean break with the past. She put the old house on the market. She was startled—perhaps a bit dismayed—at the speed with which it was sold. A young veteran bought it.

When we left, she turned the key in the lock, it made a lonely sound. We got in the car and drove away, and mama never looked back.

"I don't see any reason to feel sentimental about that old barn," she said firmly. "I'm glad to leave it at last."

Perhaps she really is. But nobody in the family really believes it. You can't feud with something for 34 years—and not fall in love with it.

New Jersey Provides New Sauce for Peas, Carrots

OLD-FASHIONED FRESH BLUEBERRY PIE is a taste thrill which everyone should experience.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Food and Markets Editor

How does this sound — broiled chicken fresh peas and carrots in a delicately flavored sauce, buttered new potatoes, tart grapefruit salad, and then old-fashioned fresh blueberry pie? That's what you would get at the home of Mrs. Robert T. Cochran of Summit, N. J.

Mrs. Cochran, wife of a prominent fresh fruit and vegetable dealer, gave us two really fine recipes to try. Everyone in our family raved.

Herbed Creamed Fresh Peas and Carrots

(Yield: 6 servings)

To cups sliced fresh carrots, 1-inch boiling water in pan, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 pound fresh peas, shelled; 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup vegetable water and milk, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/16 teaspoon ground black pepper, 1 teaspoon ground sweet basil.

Place carrots in saucepan with boiling water and the 1 teaspoon salt. Cover. Cook until crisp-tender (about 8 minutes), adding peas 5 minutes before cooking time is up. Drain liquid from vegetables. Measure and add milk to make 1 cup.

(Set aside for later use). Melt butter or margarine in a saucepan. Blend in flour. Stir in the 1 cup vegetable water and milk. Cook until medium thickness, stirring constantly. Add seasoning, peas and carrots.

Fresh Blueberry Pie

(Yield: 6 servings)

Five cups fresh whole blueberries, 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice, pastry for two-crust 9-inch pie.

Combine first 5 ingredients. Turn into a 9-inch pie pan, lined with unbaked pastry. Dot with butter or margarine and sprinkle with lemon juice. Top with 8 strips of pastry rolled 1/4-inch thick, cut 1/4-inch wide and one-inch longer than the width of the pie. Trim, turn under, and flute edges. Bake 40 minutes or until crust is brown in a preheated hot oven (425 degrees F.).

TOMORROW'S DINNER:

Broiled chicken, herbed creamed fresh peas and carrots, buttered new potatoes, grapefruit salad, fresh blueberry pie, coffee, tea, milk.

Weight-Losing in Silence Is Possible—One Woman Did It

Today I'd like to present the case of a woman who managed to lose 25 pounds without talking about it until she reached her goal.

If you don't think that's unusual how many women do you know who are able to diet without making their diet their chief topic of conversation?

How many women do you know who can go to a party and refuse the sweet tidbits offered or take one and keep it on their plates without making every woman who is eating them feel like a hog?

How many women do you know who can turn down a hostess' whipped cream dessert without groaning out loud about the probable number of calories in it?

How many women do you know who can diet for even a few days without letting everyone they know in on their secret and all its agonizing details?

FRIENDS NOTICED AND ASKED QUESTIONS. But a woman can diet quietly and unobtrusively and not become a bore or a martyr in the process.

I'm sure of that. I know one who did. In fact, she was so careful not to bore other people with her diet, or rob others of the joy of eating, or to make her hostess feel guilty for providing a meal of tempting dishes, that she slimmed down to a trim, girlish figure almost before her friends realized what was happening.

When they did start to notice and started asking questions she merely said, "Oh, I've been watching calories for some time now" and let her perfect chance for discussing her diet go by the board.

She is the only dieter I know who has been quiet about her project, and one of the few whose diet problems haven't become boring to her friends.

Receives College Degree After 16 Years 'Vacation'

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Mrs. Richard Kautz headed for home today with her husband, six of her seven children and a degree from Northwestern University.

She studied at Northwestern for more than three years, but her campus career ended with her marriage in December 1939.

But more recently she resumed her formal education by correspondence and in Saturday classes at the University of Iowa—40 miles from her home in Muscatine, Iowa. Monday she received her bachelor's degree in education at Northwestern's commencement.

In the audience were her husband, vice president of the Grain Processing Corp. in Muscatine, and six of their youngsters: Linda, 13; Judy, 11; Terry, 10; Tommy, 7; Susan, 5; and Sarah, 3.

The other child, two-year-old Cathy, stayed at home.

Mrs. Kautz, 37 now, plans to remain a housewife. She said she hopes her achievement will be a "stimulus" to the scholarship of her children.

She also told a newsman she now is in a better position to help her children with their schooling.

But her plans go beyond her own family. She is interested in the broad problem of juvenile delinquency.

"It's up to adults," she said, "to solve that problem."

The family planned to drive to Muscatine today.

Committee Asks Curbs On Toll Road Group's Power, Raps Chairman

By ROGER LANE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—A special House group which investigated the Illinois Toll Road Commission gave a verbal spanking Tuesday to its chairman, Evan Howell, and called for curbs on commission powers.

The committee of five Republicans and four Democrats split on party lines in filing separate majority and minority reports on a five-week inquiry, but was unanimous in rebuking Howell.

On one count, the minority found Howell's conduct "completely reprehensible." The majority characterized this phase of the chairman's activity as "beyond the proper dignity" of his position.

The comments were directed to Howell's admitted attempts to silence critics of one proposed turnpike project by applying job pressure against them through contact with their employers, Illinois Bell Telephone Co. and General Motors Corp.

Both firms were represented at committee hearings as being interested in obtaining Toll Road Commission business.

Howell also was censured for loose handling of public funds for travel, hotel rooms and other expenses, and for promoting and heading the National Turnpike Assn.

"He traveled between Washington, Springfield and Chicago far in excess of what would seem to the members of the committee to be necessary, particularly in view of the fact that in each of these cities he maintained private law offices," the majority said.

As to his role with the National Turnpike Assn., a private organization, the minority report said:

"The active solicitation of membership fees from contractors, financial firms and corporations which might be expected to seek profit from favorable awards from the Illinois Toll Road Commission was not in keeping with standards and principles which should be followed by any member of said commission, and particularly its chairman."

The annual membership and dues charge totaled $1,250 for other than public agencies.

In Chicago Tuesday the Toll Highway Commission, after an hour and a half long closed session, decided to put off the construction program until the Legislature disposes of recommendations made by the House committee investigating the commission.

Howell declined comment on questions referring to his feelings on the legislative committee's report. However, he said, in reference to the possibility of his resigning, "I was appointed by the governor and I will abide by his decision." Howell added that in a telephone conversation with Gov. Stratton Tuesday the governor "indicated his continued support."

Howell said the Toll Highway Commission again will meet in Chicago Monday to discuss the future of the toll program and the legislative report.

The majority and minority both approved toll roads in principle but with substantial reservations, and said that if these were not met the 1953 Toll Road Act should be taken off the statute books.

The Democrats summed up by saying that "if protection cannot be obtained for the public interest, we believe the Toll Highway Act should be repealed."

Preceding this was a discussion about the impact of proposed changes in the federal highway program on Illinois road building, and of possible savings of 170 million dollars if financing of any turnpike project in the state is backed by the state's credit.

The Toll Road Commission, under plans now nearing the execution phase, proposes to finance construction of 193 miles of northern Illinois turnpikes through issuance of 400 million dollars in revenue bonds.

The majority report said repeal of the 1953 act was "not necessarily called for" unless "substantially all" of its eight legislative recommendations were rejected by Gov. Stratton's administration and the General Assembly.

One of the recommendations called for creation of a joint toll road legislative commission empowered to confirm or disapprove the governor's appointees to the toll road agency when the senate is not in session, to advise the governor of turnpike routes and to make legislative recommendations.

Rev. R. E. May and Mrs. June Kern are instructing those in the teen-age department which includes students entering the eighth, ninth and tenth grades in the public school. The members of this class are: Lois Brogden, Joyce Ankrom, Mary Ankrom, Janet Foster, Carolyn Martin, Junior Stephenson and Phyllis Stewart.

Mrs. Marguerite Petefish is in charge of the music and Mrs. Helen Petefish is the pianist.

All the classes are studying the Ten Commandments as interpreted by Jesus. Its purpose is to help the children become better citizens of their community, the nation, the world and most especially the kingdom of God.

Last Friday Mrs. Frank Foster thoughtfully treated the entire group to ice cream cups which was greatly appreciated. On Friday, June 17, the school will open at 10 a.m. (CST) instead of the usual time. The parents or anyone interested is invited to join the students and the teachers during this last session.

Closing exercises for the 1955 vacation Bible school will be held at Berea church on Sunday evening, June 19, at 7:30 (CST) to which the public is cordially invited. The teachers would like for all the students to be at the church not later than 7:15. At this time a free-will offering will be taken to help defray the expenses of this school.

The vacation Bible school is again sponsored by the Young Adult Class with Leslie Ankrom as president. Rev. R. E. May is pastor of the church.

COUNTY-WIDE INSURANCE PROGRAM

An important announcement on another page of the issue of this paper gives detailed information concerning the Hospital and Surgical protection; also Doctor Bills and Income protection which will soon be available to residents of this community and many other communities. The Guaranteed Reserve Life Insurance Co., with the home office at Hammond, Indiana, is a legal Reserve Life Insurance Co., and this county has been one of the counties selected to participate in this program.

The Guarantee Plans of protection have been widely endorsed for their liberal coverage for hospital, and doctor bills, for illness, and accidents. Since a high percentage of residents require hospitalization every year, a need for a better Hospital and Doctor Bills plan is indicated. It is expected that participation in the program here will be extensive.

Want Own Plan One of the most effective means of combating socialized medicine is the ever-increasing number of families who are protecting themselves by participating in a voluntary plan of hospital and surgical protection. Many authorities believe that the American people most especially those in the Midwest, want to choose their own plan of protection against hospital and doctor expenses, rather than be forced into system of government controlled medical or hospital care.

The announcement carried elsewhere in this issue will give residents of this county an opportunity to participate in such a voluntary program providing protection against hospital and surgical expense. It is pointed out that families living in the rural areas will be contacted during the next few weeks and they, too, will be given an opportunity to avail themselves this protection.

Needed By Rural Homes Many more farm families require hospitalization than city residents because of the higher incidence of accidents on the farms. Usually farmers do not have the opportunity to obtain adequate hospital and surgical care because they are self employed and the benefit of an industrial group plan is not available to them.

According to the company officials, the response to the Guarantee Reserve Hospital And Surgical Plans of protection have been enthusiastic in other localities. It is the intention of the company to give all residents of the county who can qualify an opportunity to avail themselves of our plans of protection. Guarantee Reserve representatives point out that, in so far as possible, both city and farm homes will be contacted in this county.

10% Will Go To Hospital The need for protection against heavy hospital and doctor bills appears to be increasing according to latest available figures. It is believed that nearly 10% of the entire population of this county will require hospitalization this year. That means that, on the average, a member of every second family can be expected to enter a hospital during the year.

Residents will be interviewed by an authorized staff representative who will carry proper credentials by an officer of the company. The protection offered by the Guarantee Reserve Plan will be available to both individuals and families who are eligible. Residents of the county can show their support of this program by giving the authorized staff representative a few moments of his time when he calls. (Adv.)

Grasshoppers Are Easier To Control When They're Tiny

Now is the time to spot and kill grasshoppers, says Farm Adviser E. H. Garlich.

"Egg hatching is practically complete in this area and the small grasshoppers are concentrated in fence rows, ditch banks, road sides and similar spots. Now is the time to control them as they will soon migrate into legume fields."

Garlich recommended using aldrin or heptachlor at the rate of 2 ounces per acre. Either can be applied to within 15 days of harvest, while 30 days must elapse between treatment and harvest when dieldrin is used and 40 days with toxaphene.

"Controlling hoppers while they are concentrated in the hatching areas is the cheapest and best method," Garlich says. "New seedlings of legumes in grains should be watched and grasshoppers controlled before the new seedlings are badly damaged."

Whippoorwills are seldom seen because they are active at night and in the daytime their plumage blends with their background.

DRY BED TRAINING

BED WETTING CAN BE STOPPED IN TIME FOR HEALTHY SUMMER ACTIVITIES

Your child's social activities can be hindered and blocked considerably by this humiliating habit. Research has proven that children who suffer from bed wetting may not progress as fast in school or adjust as quickly to the ever-changing environment out of school, as other children. Now that Spring is here, give your child the chance to develop normally and free of this tension. You can stop the humiliating bed wetting habit in 2 to 4 weeks time... without drugs or attachments. DEVELOPED BY A DOCTOR, APPROVED BY DOCTORS.

If you have a friend or relative who has this problem please pass this along.

New Soap Box Derby Record ... 156 LOCAL RACES SCHEDULED

This is a record year for the All-American Soap Box Derby with 156 officially sanctioned local races scheduled to be held in the United States, Alaska, Canada and Western Germany. This is the largest number of local races ever to be held since the All-American began in 1934. To signal the record-breaking accomplishment, W. J. King (above), general manager of the All-American Soap Box Derby, places a marker on the map for the 156th local race sanctioned before the deadline. The 156 champions will compete in Akron, Ohio, Sunday, August 14, in the 18th running of the world famous amateur racing event for boys.

WHAT THE ...?—Rufe Stuart, of Greenville, Tex., scratches his head over why anyone would steal the motor from his plane and leave the rest. The thieves simply sawed the motor from its supports, clipped all wiring and tubing connecting it to the fuselage, carried the 200-pound motor some 100 feet to a vehicle, returned and got the propeller and started. "Might as well have taken the whole works," says Stuart. EXCLUSIVE NEA PHOTO

Death Has 3 Lives by Brett Halliday

ALONE in the apartment, Lucy got up and wandered about disconsolately.

She should be doing something. She couldn't just go to bed and sleep as Shayne suggested. She'd never sleep. Not tonight. Not with all this on her mind. For the simple, inescapable fact was that everything that had happened went back inextricably to her allowing Jack Bristow to stay without informing either Shayne or the police at once.

Then it came to her suddenly. Arlene Bristow! Jack's sister in New Orleans. Of course. She would call Arlene. The number was in her old address book.

Yes. There it was on the third page in the book. Bristow, Arlene.

She looked at the clock as she hurried to the telephone. Almost half past 12. Rather late to make a call, but then she remembered that Jack's New Orleans was in a different time zone. Was it one or two hours difference? She could never remember.

There was a very brief delay at that time of night, and then she distinctly heard a telephone ringing at the other end. It rang three times before a feminine voice answered, and relief at getting her so quickly flooded through Lucy.

She said, "Arlene? This is Lucy Hamilton."

"I'm sorry, Miss Bristow isn't here. Who did you say was calling?"

"An old friend. I'm calling from Miami and it's dreadfully important. Do you know when Arlene will be in?"

"Well, I ... no, as a matter of fact, for heaven's sake," went on the voice excitedly, "what-ever is this all about? A policeman was here not more than half an hour ago asking all the silliest questions about Arlene, and he wouldn't tell me why."

"I see." Of course, Lucy thought. Will Gentry would have contacted the New Orleans police and instituted inquiries at once. It was silly of her not to have realized that. After a brief pause, she asked, "Who is this speaking?"

"I'm Esther Grant. I share the apartment with Arlene. Are you the Lucy Hamilton in Miami I've heard Arlene mention?"

"Yes. What ...?"

"They asked me about you, too. The policeman did. Have you seen Arlene?"

"Not since I left New Orleans."

"Oh, I thought ... She's in Miami, you know."

"What? Who's?"

"Arlene. Now I am beginning to wonder what this is all about. From the first I had a funny feeling about it. It just wasn't like Arlene at all to go off like that."

"Like what?" demanded Lucy sharply.

"THE way she did two days ago. Without even a word to me. And not even packing a bag from what I could tell from looking at her clothes. But she said everything was all right over the telephone, and for me not to worry and to call her office the next morning and say it was an emergency and she'd be away a few days. And that's when she asked me to look in her book and get your address and phone number for her, and so I thought of course she'd call you right away."

"What did she say?"

"Well, she sounded kind of funny. I don't know. Worried. I guess, or scared. But she said I wasn't to worry and everything was all right, but she had to make a trip to Miami unexpectedly and would I look in her book for Lucy Hamilton's Miami address. She was in a awful hurry and didn't want to talk any, so I did and then she hung up."

Lucy told her good-night and cradled the phone. She sat very still, resting her throbbing forehead in one palm and trying to think what this news meant. So Arlene was in Miami!

Her trip had to do with Jack, of course. That seemed obvious. Some sort of trouble he was in involving $70,000 that had caused Arlene's emergency trip. Some sort of trouble that had culminated in Jack's death tonight.

A horrible thought struck Lucy as she sat there. Could either of the two girls be, in fact, Arlene Bristow? She thought back frantically to everything she had heard said about the first victim.

Either Will Gentry or Timothy Rourke had mentioned her extreme youth. About 16, hadn't they said. Arlene must be almost 30. And Gladys Smith was said to have been staying at the rooming house for some time. Obviously, she couldn't be Arlene.

BUT the other? The one who had accosted Shayne at the scene and whom he had taken to a motel for the night?

Michael had mentioned something queer about her reaction when she saw Jack. He was ready to swear it wasn't the man she had expected to see when he said he was bringing her husband in, but at the same time there had been something odd about her denial of knowing him. Shayne had sensed it at the time.

Could Arlene have recognized her brother and denied it? Lucy Hamilton got up shakily but her features were set in a mold of grim determination. This was one thing she could do. Something she alone could do.

She could make certain that the young woman who had drowned horribly in the trunk of the gray sedan in Biscayne Bay either was or was not Arlene Bristow.

College of Comfort

INFORMALITY is the key word for agriculture students attending Arizona State college at Tempe. There aren't any dudes going to this school. The students dress comfortably in cowboy outfits complete with broad-brimmed hats. Some of the classes meet outside in the warm sunshine when the mood strikes them. Then, when classes are over, instead of carrying the girl friend's books home, the campus cowboy rides along with her to her house or ranch. Later, on date night, he brushes up his favorite horse, dons a new hat and best outfit and comes calling. They believe in comfort.

This open air classroom is certainly better than staying inside on very warm days.

Early arrivals in class stretch out while waiting for professor or to do some studying.

Between classes, some of the students take time out to discuss their homework.

These gals are getting offers for ride home after their last class is over for the day.

Mays, Gomez Pace Giants To 5-0 Win Over Chicago Cubs

CHICAGO (AP)—Gail Harris' two-run homer and Willie Mays' No. 10 crowd smash backed Reuben Gomez' steady pitching to give the New York Giants a 5-0 victory over the second-place Chicago Cubs Tuesday. It was New York's first shutout triumph of the season. Harris also drove in a third run with a sacrifice fly as the Giants moved to within 2½ games of the Bruins.

The two Giant homers came in a three-run second inning to hang an eighth defeat on Sad Sam (No. 10) Jones against six victories.

Gomez had very little trouble although giving eight hits. In the

Harshman Twirls Neat Three Hitter As Sox Win 1-0

BALTIMORE (AP)—Pitcher Saul Rogovin of the Baltimore Orioles walked in the only run Tuesday night while Chicago's Jack Harshman gave up only three singles for a 1-0 victory by the second-place White Sox.

Rogovin, taking his sixth loss out of seven decisions, had the White Sox well in control with only three of them reaching second before the eighth.

Then Chico Carrasquel bunted safely, the third time the White Sox pulled off the trick, to open the eighth. Nellie Fox, after bunting foul twice, dumped a hit over centerfielder Chuck Diering, who was playing in close, and it went for a double.

Rogovin walked Jim Rivera intentionally to fill the bases after Minnie Minoso popped out, but he couldn't find the plate when he wanted to and Sherman Lollar also watched four straight balls go by to force in Carrasquel. Rogovin got out of further trouble when the next two Chicago hitters fled out to first base.

Harshman, winning his fifth game out of nine and the fourth in a row by the White Sox, had Oriole runners on second only three times and only once was it serious.

Cards Beat Cubs In Elk Baseball

A strike out derby occurred in Elk League baseball last night as the Cards beat the Cubs 10-2.

Three Card hurlers, Norton Daugherty, and Mann, fanned 17 Cub batters. Work and Stocker sent 14 Card hitters back to the bench via the strike out route.

The Cards scored three runs in the first frame and this proved enough to win. The winners had another big inning in the fourth when they pushed four tallies across the plate.

The Cubs picked up single runs in the third and fifth for all their scoring.

In other action yesterday the Indians defeated the Sports 15-12. The Eagles were edged by the Oilers 6-5 and the Red Sox crushed the Tigers 19-8.

SIGN CONTRACTS FOR FIGHT
NEW YORK (AP)—Arlene Moore and Bobo Olson took time off from heavy training Tuesday to sign the official contracts for their light heavyweight championship fight here June 22.

FAN BREEZES

BY GENE CALLAHAN
FOR BILL MERRIS

The way the Cardinal pitching staff is faring, the front office can hardly wait to see Vinegar Bend Mizell back in Red Bird uniform.

The colorful Vinegar is playing for the Fort McPherson army nine this summer and in his last outing beat Fort Jackson 2-1 in 13 innings. Mizell, who can throw as hard as anyone in the National League, fanned 24 batters and league home the winning run in the thirteenth.

The Cardinals don't expect Mizell to be discharged until the current season is over.

Talking about players coming back to the majors, we wonder how long the New York Giants can keep Bob Lenson off the parent roster. At the present time the Minneapolis slugger has hit 19 home runs, driven in 62 tallies, and is hitting .311.

The Giants got a look at Lenson in the spring but thought he needed a little more seasoning. Looks like he's ready.

You might have seen it, but Arch Ward of the Chicago Tribune wrote a little story about Yogi Berra that merits retelling:

The Yogi Man was in a Boston hotel with his teammates awaiting a three game series. Jim Piersall came through the lobby the night before the opening game and saw Yogi. Piersall decided to introduce his wife to him.

After the formalities of introduction Mrs. Piersall said to Yogi, "That's a cool looking suit you have on." Yogi, not being a boaster, said, "You don't look so hot yourself."

There's an ex-professional football player here in Jacksonville and we doubt if too many people know him. Jim Tays, the manager of the farm departments at three state hospitals in Illinois, lives at 936 West Superior. The halfback, who played for the Chicago Cardinals from 1925-27 and the New York Giants during 1928, has lost little enthusiasm for the gridiron.

Tays is originally from Tolono, Illinois. That's where Rocky Ryan, former Illinois football star, hails from too. Tays went to Pennsylvania University and lettered in football for three years. After playing pro ball, Tays coached Cincinnati's entry in the National Football League.

While Tays has been in the "farming business" since his professional football days, his heart is still in the rough and tumble game. Jim was telling us that Jacksonville has a nice setup for young boys playing baseball and also good accommodations for basketball in the winter. However, Tays would like to see grade school boys get a chance to play football before they get into High School.

He was explaining the football setup for kids in Chicago and it's really something. The boys have a park league. League leaders get to play between halves of Chicago Bear and Cardinal games. He further explained that average cities like Jacksonville could also have little-league football. Danville is a prime example of a city where football for youngsters has gone over very well.

There are many benefits for young boys playing football. It is an invigorating sport to take part in and the boys are also learning the basic fundamentals that could make them into future high school and college stars.

Barbara McIntire Leads Pat Lesser In Co-Ed Golf Meet

LAKE BLUFF, Ill. (AP)—Barbara McIntire, U.S. Golfing girl, rolled a 36-hole record of 109 to lead the American Amateur Athletic Union to investigate the amateur status of star runner Wes Santee.

Brundage said he had studied a story printed in a San Francisco newspaper "which made very serious charges against Santee in the matter of accepting expense money."

"I sent the story and a letter to Dan Ferris secretary of the AAU and suggested that the matter should be looked into. I have not yet heard from Ferris."

Brundage said the story claimed that Santee of the University of Kansas received more expenses than needed to compete in recent California meets.

Santee has denied the charge and Ferris' AAU has said his status is okay.

At Camp Pendleton, Calif., Santee, a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps reserve and now on active duty, reiterated his previous denial of the charges.

He said he had received no formal complaints from the AAU. "It's simply a newspaper story," Santee said.

Hogan Not Favored To Win National Open; Play Begins Thursday

By WILL GRIMSLEY
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The stock of hard-luck Sam Snead and intense Cary Middlecoff took a sharp jump Tuesday and Ben Hogan became less a terror for aspirants to the National Open Golf Championship.

However, most of the 132 professionals and 30 amateurs who tee off Thursday insisted that the weekend's 72-hole battle would be a fight with the course and the weather as well as with men.

Few felt that the official softening of the 6,700-yard Olympic Lake course—barbering of the rough and shaving of two fairways—would materially affect scoring and most contenders predicted a 280-plus winning score.

The sun came out in full force Tuesday after days of fog and drizzle and hopes rose for a favorable weekend. Yet there was no guarantee of it. Morning and late afternoon fog sweeps in regularly from off the Pacific Ocean, dampening fairways and adding yards to the par 35-35-70 layout.

Already the boys have tabbed this a driver's paradise and a double-bogey nightmare—depending on how you look at it—and because of their great showing with the wood clubs Snead and Middlecoff have gained tremendous favor.

Hogan, meanwhile, became a man of mystery but the usual cold fright he has instilled in his adversaries down through the years seemed to have lessened considerably.

The grim Texan hasn't played the precision golf which carried him to championships in 1948, 1950, 1951 and 1953. He has limped noticeably, shown an absence of his old concentration and hit streaks of extreme wildness.

The talk persisted on the oldsters and semi-oldsters, and the so-called "hungry wolves"—the new young brigade headed by Gene Littler and Mike Souchak who burned up the winter and spring circuits—have received only scant attention.

Neither Littler nor Souchak has been impressive in practice.

Report Cardinals Won't Be Sold Giles Confirms

CINCINNATI (AP)—Warren Giles, president of the National League, said Tuesday he had been assured by "a Cardinal official" that a report the St. Louis Cardinals are for sale "is without foundation."

Giles also declared there had been no discussion of such a sale within the league.

Giles issued a formal statement after the New York Herald-Tribune carried a copyrighted story Tuesday by its sports editor, Bob Cooke, saying the Cards were for sale because the club had not provided a profitable return for its brewery owners.

August A. Busch Jr., president of the Cards, also denied in St. Louis that the club was for sale. A. Busch-Busch, makers of the Budweiser beer, bought the St. Louis team in 1953.

Giles' statement Tuesday pointed out that the league president would be informed if sale of a club was contemplated.

A.A.U. To Investigate Wes Santee's Status In Amateur Athletics

Stanky Spurs Scouting Position

FAIRHOPE, Ala. (AP)—Eddie Stanky, fired May 28 as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, said Tuesday he had turned down a scouting offer with the Cards and is free to deal with other major league clubs.

He said he had reached the agreement with Dick Meyer, vice president and general manager of the National League club.

"I have received permission to negotiate with any other major league club that I wish," Stanky said. "I was offered a scouting assignment in the St. Louis Cardinals organization which I did not take at this time. I wanted a job in the majors."

He said he hasn't received any offers yet from major league clubs.

The Duke Hits 20th As Dodgers Shut Out Sixth Place Redlegs

CINCINNATI (AP)—Johnny Podres hurled shutout ball Tuesday night to lead Brooklyn to a 9-0 triumph over Cincinnati in the first of a three-game series. The Dodgers scored six runs in the second inning, including Duke Snider's three-run homer, his 20th home run this season. Weak Cincinnati gathered 7 hits.

Brooklyn leaped ahead in the second when they scored their six runs, routing starter Johnny Klippstein and reliever Steve Ridzik. Outside of Snider's long drive, three other runs came on singles by Podres, Jim Gilliam and Pee Wee Reese, who also scored on a wild pitch after his first inning single.

Buster Freeman held down the Dodgers until the sixth frame when he walked and Gilliam was awarded home after he singled, stole second, and continued to third on Smoky Burgess' throw into centerfield.

Ex-Brooklyn hurler Joe Black was sent in for the Reds in the eighth and prevented his former teammates from scoring in the final two frames. He allowed only two hits.

The victory puts Brooklyn 11½ games ahead in league standings.

Al Aber's Error Enables Yanks To Beat Tigers 7-6

NEW YORK (AP)—Andy Carey scammed all the way around to score the tying run on pitcher Al Aber's four-base error in a wild three-run ninth inning by the New York Yankees Tuesday night and Mickey Mantle slashed a single into right field that scored the winning run in the 10th as the American League leaders beat Detroit's Tigers 7-6.

The victory snapped a three-game losing streak for the Yankees and preserved their 2½-game lead over the Chicago White Sox.

Carey's sprint capped a fairy-book comeback for New York after Jim Delinger's two-run double had given the Tigers a 6-3 lead in the top of the ninth.

Irv Noren's second home run of the game led off the ninth and when Mantle reached second on an error by Ferris Fain, Aber came in to relieve hard-luck Ned Garver. The lefty got Yogi Berra and Eddie Robinson as Mantle advanced to third, but after Carey hit in front of the plate, Aber threw wild past first and Carey chugged all the way home.

Moon Poles Pair, But Cards Bow 10-5 To Pirates

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates exploded for eight runs in the fourth inning Tuesday night and went on to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals 10-5, as Dale Long drove in four runs and Bob Purkey turned in a clutch relief job in the seventh.

Long, who has climbed up among the league's leading hitters, hit his fifth homer of the season with the bases empty in the second and then batted home three runs in the decisive fourth with a double and bases-loaded single.

Thirteen men went to the plate for the Pirates against starter Larry Jackson and Brooks Lawrence in the fourth as they collected six hits, three intentional walks and one hit batsman.

Wally Moon hit a pair of two-run homers for the Cards in the fifth and ninth innings.

Kline got credit for his fourth win against eight defeats while Jackson was charged with his fourth loss against two wins.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market reversed itself Tuesday and declined under the weight of moderate selling in the final hour.

The market had attained new record high marks in five of the previous six sessions, and Tuesday it opened higher.

The upward trend continued until the last hour when profit taking spread throughout the list with enough authority to turn the trend downward.

Losses never were great and amounted to $2 at the outside in key areas. Plus signs, on the other hand, went to around $3. There was an almost even division between gains and losses.

Aircraft were the main prop for prices. Strength in that division followed a vote by the Senate Appropriations Committee to boost Air Force funds 700 million dollars.

Railroads, which were the mainstay of the market Monday, backed down under profit taking Tuesday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down 60 cents at $169.60. It was up $1.00 Monday at a record high.

All three components of the average fell back Tuesday—Industrials off 80 cents, rails off 70 cents, and utilities off 20 cents.

Volume amounted to 2,860,000 shares as compared with 2,770,000 shares traded Monday.

The American Stock Exchange was mostly lower, following the lead of the "Big Board," on volume of 1,100,000 shares as compared with 1,110,000 shares traded Monday.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The corporate bond market ended mixed Tuesday, erasing many early gains. Treasury bonds were steady.

Convertible obligations were subject to profit taking. Most convertibles closed higher, though below their best prices. Investment quality corporates tended to ease. Trading was selective and volume declined to $4,830,000 par value from $5,550,000 Monday.

The Associated Press foreign bond average climbed to a new session.

U. S. government bonds barely budged. Over the counter trading was slow.

In new financing, the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad sold $8,700,000 of equipment certificates to an investment group led by Kidder, Peabody & Co. The group bid 99.37 for 27 1/2 per cent certificates due 1956 - 70. Underwriters reoffered 1956-57 maturities priced to yield from 2.20 to 2.95 per cent. Later maturities were not reoffered.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

CHICAGO (AP)—In the absence of any strong demand from outside order buyers, the hog market turned in a steady to 50 cents lower trend Tuesday. Shippers were disinclined to follow new nine-month high prices established in the preceding session.

Cattle received some leverage from a 1,000-head reduction in the expected supply. A steady to strong market resulted, accompanied by a steady to $1.00 higher trade in vealers. Sheep were steady to 50 cents higher with spring lambs taking the price advantage.

Most butcher weight hogs in the available 10,000 sold from $18.00 to $21.00. A sparely paid top was made at $21.25. Sows moved at $13.50 to $17.00 mostly, a few lights going to $17.50.

Choice and prime steers and yearlings were worth 21.75 to $24.00 in most deals, topped by one load testing mostly prime at $25.00. Good to prime heifers brought $18.75 to $23.50.

Commercial cows topped at $15.00, similar bulls at $16.50 and choice vealers at $24.00. Salable cattle amounted to 6,500 head and 400 calves.

Spring lambs brought $25.00 to $26.00 on choice and prime grades, one small lot going to $26.25. Little else of quality was available in the 1,500 sheep on hand.

POTATO MARKET

CHICAGO (AP)—(USDA) — Potatoes: arrivals old stock 2, new stock 133; on track 47 old stock, 252 new stock; total U.S. shipments 1,020. Old stock supplies insufficient to establish a trend; carlot track sales, old stock: Minnesota-North Dakota russets gem $3.00. New stock supplies moderate, demand active and market steady for whites, slightly stronger for reds; carlot track sales, new stock: California long whites $3.75-4.10, outstanding car $4.35, bakers $4.25 - 4.40; Arizona round reds $4.35.

POULTRY MARKET

CHICAGO (AP)—(USDA) — Live poultry about steady on young stock and hens, weak on caponettes; receipts in coops 629 (Monday 1,140 coops, 131,007 lb); f.o.b. paying prices unchanged; heavy hens 22-28; light hens 17.5-18; broilers or fryers 30-32; old roosters 12-12.5; caponettes 34-35.

Commodities Down On Board Of Trade

By LAWRENCE N. ELDRED
CHICAGO (AP)—Most commodities on the Board of Trade held onto hard-won gains of the preceding session for several hours Tuesday.

Then they stumbled into broad profit taking and losses extended frequently to as much as two cents. Soy oil and an occasional soybeans contract carried the only plus marks at the close of trading.

Wheat finished 1/4-1/2 cents lower, corn 1/4-1/2 less, oats 1/4-1/2 lower and rye 1/4-1/2 off. Soy beans were 1 cent lower to 3/4 higher and lent was 5 to 22 cents a hundredweight lower.

Rye, the big gainer Monday, was the heaviest loser in the new business. It fell, along with corn and oats, on the basis of the government's weekly crop bulletin which indicated excellent progress in the new crops.

Wheat not only had to contend with steadily improving spring wheat prospects, but also suffered from withdrawal of cash grain buyers who pulled out in face of the higher prices established previously.

DAIRY QUEEN WILL MARK BIRTHDAY

June 15th marks the 15th anniversary of the national Dairy Queen organization, according to Earl Halterman, of the Dairy Queen store at 1312 South Main street. In 1940 the first Dairy Queen store was opened in Joliet, Ill. There were only six stores by 1945, as government restrictions during World War II made expansion impossible. But today, Mr. Halterman said, the stores number over 2600 with an estimated 350 new ones opening this year.

Battles Filibuster To Speed House Business

By CHARLES WHALEN
SPRINGFIELD, ILL. (AP)—Speaker Warren Wood, cracking down on a weeklong filibuster, held the Illinois House in a night session Tuesday to speed up passage of bills.

One of the bills, approved by the House and referred to the Senate, provided for increasing pay of legislators from $5,000 to $6,000 a year.

Leaders of the filibustering bloc unsuccessfully tried to counter Wood's move during a boisterous session. They declared that Wood's action in advancing the bills endangered the legality of many measures.

After recesses for lunch, committee hearings and dinner, the House came back for its second night meeting of the six month session. Wood scheduled a pre-dawn session beginning at 4 a.m. CDT Wednesday, but the prospects were that it would not be held.

Wood pulled off, fourth grade Wood pulled a surprise when the House convened by ignoring REP. John Morris (D-Chadwick) and other filibuster leaders who shouted for recognition in order to demand that bills be read in full as required by the State Constitution.

The speaker selected major bills, like appropriations and those for government agencies, and ordered them read in full to avoid the possibility of a challenge to their legality in the future.

But most bills called were read by title only, the customary procedure in the Legislature to save time.

As a result of Wood's clampdown, the House advanced 78 bills and passed a half dozen others during the four hours it was in session Tuesday morning.

At one point, Rep. Paul A. Ziegler (D-Carmi) obtained recognition when the bill passing stage was reached.

SOIL MOISTURE NOW HIGHEST SINCE 1951

SPRINGFIELD, ILL. (AP) — Soil moisture has reached its highest level since the 1951 season, the Illinois Weekly Weather and Crop Bulletin said Tuesday.

Most farmers welcome the condition but some are becoming concerned about the delay in field work caused by the wet weather, the report said. This is particularly true in southeastern Illinois.

Condition of all crops was described as favorable. Corn planting is complete except in the southern end of the state and soybean planting is 90 per cent finished.

IKE'S BAD SHOULDER GETS X-RAY CHECKUP

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower had his ailing right shoulder X-rayed Tuesday at Walter Reed General Hospital. The picture was made to check on progress in treatment of the Bursitis that has bothered him for some time. The President's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, said the X-ray has responded to treatment.

RECOMMENDS CIVIL SERVICE PAY HIKE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Civil Service Committee Tuesday recommended a flat 7 1/2 per cent pay increase for a million federal Civil Service employees.

The Senate already has approved a 10 per cent boost for the workers.

President Eisenhower had asked only a 5 per cent raise.

At 7 1/2 per cent, the raise would cost an estimated 325 million dollars when broadened to include legislative, judicial and foreign service workers.

Ask Manufacturer To Fix Defective U.S. Storage Bins

WASHINGTON (AP)—A manufacturer was called upon by Agriculture Department officials Tuesday to repair 8,900 government-owned grain storage bins which inspectors have declared defective.

The bins, located in the Midwest and built during the last couple of years, were bought by the department for storage of surplus grains acquired under farm price support programs. Altogether there are 195,000 bins scattered throughout the country.

Officials said some of the defective bins will require new foundations and others will need replacement of bulged or wrinkled sidewalls. Officials estimated the cost of the repairs would run between one and two million dollars.

The Agriculture Department has estimated the total cost of the grain storage structure program for the first six months of this fiscal year at $5 million.

The problem of repairing the bad bins was discussed at a closed conference of department officials with representatives of Black, Silvalis & Bryson, Inc., of Kansas City, the manufacturer, and 20-odd contractors who erected the bins.

Funerals Of Race Crash Victims Held In Le Mans

LE MANS, France (AP)—Speeding sports cars gave way to slow and silent funeral carriages Tuesday as Le Mans buried its victims of the racing's history.

Somber processions wound through the streets to the funerals of many of the 78 spectators who died when a speeding race car in last Saturday's running of the Le Mans 24-hour auto race exploded and crashed in their midst.

Still in Le Mans hospitals are 73 who were injured. The French government has banned all auto racing until new safety regulations can be drafted.

Cook Grand Jury Indicts Woman In Cop Slaying

CHICAGO (AP)—The Cook County (Chicago) grand jury was reported Tuesday to have voted a true bill charging Mrs. Beatrice Seay, 29, with murdering Patrolman Donald Cabay, 27.

Earlier in the day, a coroner's jury recommended that the woman, mother of a 6-year-old son, be held to the grand jury in connection with the rookie policeman's death.

Mrs. Cabay testified at an inquest that she shot Cabay to death early Monday after they had visited a number of taverns and the policeman was found shot in the back in front of a Northwest Side apartment building where Mrs. Seay lives.

The woman testified the shooting was an accident; that Cabay's gun was discharged while she was trying to stop it.

She told the coroner's jury she met the policeman—whose name she could not recall on the witness stand—in a neighborhood tavern early Monday. She said they visited a number of saloons drinking whiskey and beer. Later they went to the apartment of Cabay, a bachelor.

She said she got hold of the policeman's revolver in the apartment and was still carrying it when he drove her home about 4:30 a.m. She testified the gun discharged accidentally as Cabay was escorting her from the car to the apartment house entrance.

"If I had wanted to kill him I could have done it in his apartment or in his automobile," Mrs. Seay testified. "It was an accident."

Mrs. Seay said that after the shooting she carried the gun into the Seay apartment, took the bullets out of it and threw it away. Previously her husband, General Forrest Seay, 37, a carpenter, testified he tossed the gun in a garbage can from which it was recovered by police.

Seay testified he had threatened to divorce his wife but relented when she promised "to stop running around with other men."

Hear Evidence In Stock Car Death Damage Claim

When Morgan county circuit court is reconvened by Judge L. E. Wilhite at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, the hearing of testimony will be resumed in the suit of Betty Irene Vieira against Forest Powell, in which the plaintiff seeks damages for the death of her husband, Earl Edward Vieira, in a stock car race.

Witnesses for the plaintiff including several race drivers testified at a session Monday, evidence being heard by Judge Wilhite without a jury. The defense motion for a directed verdict was denied, after which evidence for the defendant was heard in part before court was continued until Wednesday.

Vieira was fatally injured Sept. 8, 1953, in an accident at the Morgan county fair grounds while he was competing in a race, of which Powell, a Quincy resident, was said to have been the promoter.

Robert Weiner of Springfield is attorney for the widow. James N. Keefe of Quincy represents Powell.

Tells Congregational Assembly Of Church's Mission In The World

Americans are heirs of a tradition in which there has been — particularly during the last century and a half — a constant awareness of the world mission of the Church, Dr. Henry Smith Leiper, New York City, minister and executive secretary of the Missions Council of the Congregational Christian Churches, told the general assembly of the 112th annual state conference of the Congregational Conference of Illinois Tuesday evening. The assembly was held on the campus of Illinois College, which, with the Congregational Church, is co-host.

"At the center of that awareness is the conviction that in the personal loyalty of persons to the supreme personality of the ages in the motivation for the development of community among men and nations," he said.

"We are living in the first period in which it is at least true that Christ is known, loved and obeyed by some persons in every nation under heaven."

"And in addition for the first time there has appeared evidence of the consciousness of community — of loyalty, of purpose, of destiny — among a significant cross section of the Christian Church in all the world. . . . Despite the diverse ways in which the many kinds of Christians have approached their world mission (and only a minority have approached it at all) there are curious similarities in the pattern of their activities."

Patterns Similar

First in the patterns, Dr. Leiper explained, has been the upbuilding of the Church as a source of inspiration, the enlistment of leadership, and education in the Christian way of life and support for every type of outreach beyond the local church.

Second, there has been a process of communication by which the good news has been shared with others.

Third, there has been a constant effort, with a degree of success which often is not realized, to penetrate the surrounding culture with the moral and spiritual influences that flow from Christ into both individual and social patterns of conduct.

"In response to this urge the Church has been the mother of education, of art, of music, of forms of government, and of many other human institutions including the theater," Dr. Leiper said.

We do well in time of discouragement, defeatism and fear, to recall the amazing success of the processes of Christian world missions. He stated, noting significant gains both at home and abroad. But the unfinished tasks are staggering:

Unfinished Jobs

(1) We have grown so fast as a nation that there are today 70,000,000 Americans totally outside of the Church. That number exceeds by ten million the population of the country in 1890. No wonder there is a major crime every 14 seconds!

(2) There are more threats to freedom now than for many decades. The justifiable fear of totalitarian aggression has induced us to adopt totalitarian methods to an alarming degree and to set aside the bill of rights without sufficient awareness that when the rights of any are disregarded the rights of all are imperiled.

(3) In spite of all the progress which has been made most of the people in the world at this hour are poor, ignorant, hungry and sick. We can't take it in chiefly because we live amid such untold plenty, luxury and scientific progress.

(4) With 7% of the world's population we have 40% of the world's income and our per capita income is 15 times that of all the rest of mankind.

(5) But most challenging of all is the fact that there is now another world missionary faith driving relentlessly for dominance over the total human race. It is the world mission of communism. It has already closed many doors and taken over at least temporarily the effective control of vast portions of the globe.

Actual vs. Potential

"We do well to consider not merely our past degree of commitment to the world mission of the Church, and our record of outstanding leadership in the prosecution of that mission but also our potential for the present as compared with what we actually are doing to create a world Christian community consciousness. (And countless voices are telling us that in it alone is the ultimate hope for a better world!)"

"For our task we have five main agencies or sets of agencies: They are the State Conference, the Board of Home Missions, the Council for Social Action, the Service Committee, and the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions."

"Let me remind you of the fact that every one of these concerns itself with one or more, mostly more, of the functions which I earlier mentioned as inherent in the world mission wherever found."

DIES RESCUING RACCOON

MONTREAL (AP)—William Mulcahy, 38, of the Humane Society, was electrocuted while trying to rescue a raccoon from an electric power pole. He had been reaching out with a 14-foot metal rod toward the animal from the roof of a building. The rod on escaped.

A 1952 survey showed that a million classrooms were then in use in U. S. public schools.

Veteran Rodeo Enthusiasts Hail McKinley Show

It's a high quality show! That was the verdict of the people who attended the Tuesday night showing of the McKinley Rodeo and Wild West show sponsored at the fairgrounds by the Jacksonville Jaycees for the benefit of the crippled children's fund.

Veteran observers, who go to every rodeo around this section of the country, especially liked the "green" Brahma bulls, just brought up from Florida, and the "green" broncs hauled east from the buttes of Montana.

The riders, who stack up well as compared to those of previous years, aren't too well acquainted with their mounts, judging from the spills dealt out in front of the grandstand last night. The McKinley show opened just last Sunday.

The riders, or would-be riders, said last night that they hoped to gentle down the stock "considerably" before they hit the big fair circuits later this season.

Honored guests at last night's show were Miss Milligan's class at Lincoln grade school. They were escorted to the fairgrounds by Sheriff Jack Andrews and his deputies.

The rodeo will be presented again tonight, beginning at 8 p.m.
